How One Farmer Got His Butter Customers.

According to the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, a butter producer in Mount Jackson, Virginia, allowed his name to be quoted on the Washington, D. C., food products bulletin which the postoffice authorities of that city issue, and within a few days had received three inquiries from housewives for prices. Following is a brief extract from the account of how he handles his business:

"Immediately he replied to the inquiries, quoting a price of 27 cents the pound for butter—the customer to pay the postage. This in spite of the fact that he knew several of the fancy groceries of the national capital were asking 38 cents a pound. He received a few trial orders, packed the butter neatly, and shipped it promptly back. A worthwhile trade grew up. He received orders for 50 pounds in a single week, and of course followed his customers up with offers of other kinds of fresh produce. A prominent southern hotel added its patronage to the Washington housewives—and the producer found to his surprise one week that he had so many orders that he would have to buy cream from his neighbors to satisfy the demand.

"At this point he might have fallen down if he had not taken thought. But he did. He examined every quart of bought cream with a careful scrutiny, and turned back a good deal that was not up to the mark.

"Of the hundreds of pounds of butter that I sold," he wrote the postmaster at Washington, "I have never had a dissatisfied customer. I kept the bars of high quality up."

TALK OF THE TOWN

Auction sale Monday, Sept. 20, for W. T. Tucker & Son, Orange; 30 cows, 19 head of young cattle, horses, hogs and hay. See ad., page 7. C. F. Smith, auctioneer.

Misses Catherine and Josephine Field of Montpelier entertained a few of their young friends from Barre last evening at a corn roast at the home of Donald McLeod on the Montpelier road.

Mr. and Mrs. George T. Brown and little daughter of St. Johnsbury, who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. McCarthy of Brook street, have gone to Enosburg Falls, where they will visit Mrs. Brown's sister for a few days before returning to St. Johnsbury, where Mr. Brown is employed in the Merchants' National bank.

MANY "ICE AGES"

Have Been Experienced By Old Mother Earth.

Everyone with intelligent interest in the history of the world on which he lives has heard of "the glacial epoch," or the ice age. The inhabitants of the northern portion of the United States have no doubt a general understanding that the gravel hills and ridges and the huge boulders with which they are familiar are due to an irresistible invasion from Canada by "the great ice sheet" at a date just preceding that which geologists term "recent," yet many thousands of the glacial sub-epochs.

It is, however, not strictly correct to speak of the "ice age" or the "glacial epoch," for there have been many of them. It is now known that even this latest or Pleistocene glacial epoch has several important divisions, and in the Rocky mountain region it appears that important changes in the form and height of the mountains, due to a wearing down by erosion, took place between the glacial sub-epochs.

More than 50 years ago it was recognized by English geologists that certain masses of gravel and breccia and certain planed and grooved rock surfaces in rocks of Permian age in India indicated a glacial epoch vastly older than that of the Canadian ice sheets, but it is only within the last 30 years that geologists have learned that glacial conditions have occurred at many different times in the earth's history. The evidence of this has been found in all continents, in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia, South and North America. The formation of great ice sheets took place at different periods in the larger divisions of geologic time back to the Proterozoic—that is, to the age of the oldest known sedimentary rocks, a great many million years ago.

One of the most recent discoveries of old glacial deposits is that made by Prof. W. W. Atwood of the United States geological survey, in 1913, in southwestern Colorado. Near Ridgway, Prof. Atwood found typical glacial till, containing pebbles and boulders showing well-preserved scratches and other markings, occurring beneath Tertiary lavas of the San Juan mountains and upon upper Cretaceous beds. From the conditions of occurrence it is clear that these Ridgway gravels are of early Eocene age.

Prof. Atwood's report of this discovery has just been issued by the United States geological survey as part B of "Recent Glacial Deposits in Southwestern Colorado." Copies of the report may be had on application to the Director of the United States Geological Survey.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Keep in mind Wednesday, Sept. 29. At the Presbyterian church an illustrated lecture on "The Nations of the War," with 200 slides, will be given. Admission, 25c. Tickets now on sale by members of men's club.

Miss Marguerite Stoughton entertained a party of twelve young women at her home on French street last evening. Bridge was the principal diversion and a collection was served during an intermission in the playing.

Mrs. Jeannette Bartlett of Branch street has gone to Washington to remain on her father's farm for a few days. The condition of her father, P. Bernasconi, who was brought to Barre this week for treatment, remains critical.

Richard Attridge of South Main street left this morning for Lebanon, N. H., and on his return home early in the coming week he will be accompanied by Mrs. Attridge, who has been spending several days with relatives in New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Miles and children of South Main street and Mrs. H. S. Miles of Summer street returned to the city last night from Reading, where they have been making a week's visit with relatives. The trip was made in Mrs. H. S. Miles' car.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Cook of South Main street, who have been passing three weeks in Ames, Ia., with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Colburn, returned to the city last evening. During their absence they also attended the Iowa state fair at Des Moines.

On his assurance that the fine and costs assessed him in city court yesterday for wanton carelessness in driving an automobile, will be paid by to-night, George Jackson, the 16-year-old summer street youth arrested by Constable George L. Morris was given his liberty late yesterday afternoon.

The Barre Reservists, captained by Mike Keefe, left this morning at 8:25 o'clock for Waterbury, where they are to play the junior team of that village this afternoon. Sassi and J. Wilson are slated to do the battery work for the Reservists, who constitute one of the teams that figured in the Play-ground league series this summer.

The football schedule recently issued by the Vermont State Agricultural school at Randolph contains games with Middlebury academy at Barre next Saturday and with Spaulding high school in this city Oct. 30. Last year the "Aggies" brought a husky team to this city and in opening Goddard's gridiron season the Randolph men may be expected to give a good account of themselves.

With the work of completing the new quarter-mile stretch of permanent road from South Main street to the Barre Town line on Quarry street less than two weeks away, according to the expectations of the street superintendent and city engineer, the malicious action of small boys and others in that vicinity have threatened seriously to retard the progress which the road builders are making. Recently these nightly depredations have been carried to such extremes that the road machinery, including the steam roller and other apparatus, have been tampered with and attempts have been made to let loose a quantity of oil stored in barrels on the scene. Police headquarters has stationed a man on Quarry street and as the identity of several of the offenders is known it is likely that prosecutions will follow.

Visitors in the city yesterday and today were: Mrs. C. C. Genesee of Eden, G. I. Bennett of Youngstown, O., F. A. Phillips and W. H. Davis of Northfield, A. R. Patterson and J. K. Graham of Rutland, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Parsons of Cambridge, Mass., who came by auto and were registered at the Hotel Barre, F. L. Miller and party of North Hyde Park, Henry Lewis Paul of Easton, Pa., William Loverin and Mrs. F. F. Swett of Haverhill, Mass., Miss Ruth Carter of Brattleboro, who visited at the home of her brother, E. P. Carter of Keith avenue, Robert W. Gordon of St. Paul, Minn., Fred D. Cole of Alburg, Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Thompson of Isle la Motte, Walter Lee Sprague of Lawrence, Mass., G. K. Emery of Ferrisburgh, William Craigie of Quincy, Mass., L. A. Spaulding and G. H. Hastings of St. Johnsbury.

Premier pictures of a scope and variety that cannot but appeal to the most exacting of movie lovers were unveiled before a large audience in the Barre opera house last evening, the occasion being the regular once-in-a-while visit of Lyman H. Howe in our midst. From an interesting journey through the continental countries outside the war zone—few in numbers as they are—the audience was frisked across the Atlantic to our own Panama canal and thence up the coast to the two San expositions, Diego and Francisco. The travelogue was interspersed with the usual sprinkling of L. H. H. pictures of a humorous turn. A good many people who go to Howe's pictures twice as often as they celebrate Christmas vow that the well known cinematograph pioneer produced the best screen program ever shown in Barre. It does not mean that Mr. Howe has subsidized this space when it is stated that a big fraction of those same people will be looking down the road for his return in a few months.

A "true dancant" that might not have lasted as long as it did had a policeman happened along while the dancing was in progress was successfully carried out by a man and young woman on North Main street early this morning. People in that neighborhood who rise betimes these fine summer mornings witnessed as strange a spectacle as was ever their privilege when they saw the couple going through the mazes of an eccentric folk dance while a teletype "tore off" the music on the curbing. Dancers and dancette seemed entirely oblivious to the crowding of short nozzles and other signs that a new day was dawning, but the soldier, who seemed to be the committee of one on prudience, finally persuaded the teetotalers to desist from their midnight revelry. To a rather inquisitive passerby, the man at the violin resembled the information that the couple were on their way home from a dance in the gray dawn when the dawn is to produce the fun that had ended only a short time before overcame their discretion.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. William DeWitt Parry, who were married in Barre 10 days ago, returned to the city last evening, after passing their honeymoon in Maine and New Hampshire. Mr. and Mrs. Parry are making their home at 9 Grant avenue, and the former will resume his duties on the interurban line of the B. & M. T. & P. Co. Monday.

Funeral services for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. John Amey of Westerville, whose death occurred Wednesday after a brief illness, were held in St. Sylvester's Catholic church at Graniteville Thursday, the pastor, Rev. Joseph Turcot, officiating. Henry Turcot, the child's godfather, acted as the bearer of the little one's remains, which were brought to this city for interment in the Catholic cemetery on Beckley street.

Yom Kippur, the most solemn feast day in the Jewish calendar, ends to-night at sundown and Hebrews throughout the world who have been denying themselves during the great white fast, as it is designated, for 24 hours, will resume the more ordinary courses of their existence once more. A number of local Hebrews passed the fast day in Burlington, where the services of a rabbi are available and where special synagogue meetings have been held. Yom Kippur is observed most rigidly wherever a little knot of Hebrews are gathered and the significance attached to the occasion is not less marked in the communities of small Hebrew population than in the larger centers. Money offered by devout Hebrews during Yom Kippur is to be devoted this year to those of their race who have been impoverished by the great European war.
